Welcome

This is the first of a series of monthly newsletters providing you with an update on the changes happening to the way you save for retirement with Universities Superannuation Scheme.

You are receiving this email as a member of the scheme who will be affected by the changes.

You will have already received some communications from USS, including the Important information about your pension leaflet and you may have already visited the USS For the future website, which contains lots of information about the forthcoming changes. These monthly updates will provide a summary of any information issued, tell you what we are doing to secure your retirement saving in the future and highlight some key activities to look out for in the coming months.

Spotlight on the final salary section

On 31 March 2016 the final salary section of USS will come to an end. This feature explains what happens to the benefits you have earned in the final salary section up to that date, how USS will calculate the value of those benefits, and how we shall look after them going forwards.

Importantly the benefits you have built up until 31 March 2016 are secure.

What to expect next month

Your pension scheme will change

You will become a member of the new section of the scheme the USS Retirement Income Builder (please note, all members are affected by this change).

You do not need to do anything yet

If you are remaining in the scheme, and you’re not making any changes to your pension arrangements, you don’t need to do anything.

The benefits you have built up to date will remain within the scheme and from 1 April you will automatically start to earn benefits within the USS Retirement Income Builder. Later in the year you will need to register for online services, we’ll write to you nearer the time.
